

Editorial

Oliver Stein<sup>1</sup>

Published online: 27 November 2024

© The Author(s) 2024

You are reading the final issue of MMOR's Volume 100. I am very glad that, on the occasion of this anniversary, Luciano Barcellos, José M. Merigó and Anna M. Gil-Lafuente have compiled a bibliometric overview which covers the MMOR history all the way back to 1956. You will find this illuminating paper at the end of this issue.

At the same time, with this issue my term as MMOR's Editor-in-Chief comes to an end. I take this opportunity to cordially thank you for your ongoing support and engagement over the last ten years.

While I am stepping away, I am confident that MMOR will continue to thrive under its new leadership. I look forward to witnessing this future development from a new perspective—yours.

With gratitude and best wishes,

Oliver Stein

Open Access This article is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, which permits use, sharing, adaptation, distribution and reproduction in any medium or format, as long as you give appropriate credit to the original author(s) and the source, provide a link to the Creative Commons licence, and indicate if changes were made. The images or other third party material in this article are included in the article's Creative Commons licence, unless indicated otherwise in a credit line to the material. If material is not included in the article's Creative Commons licence and your intended use is not permitted by statutory regulation or exceeds the permitted use, you will need to obtain permission directly from the copyright holder. To view a copy of this licence, visit <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>.

Publisher's Note Springer Nature remains neutral with regard to jurisdictional claims in published maps and institutional affiliations.

---

✉ Oliver Stein
stein@kit.edu

<sup>1</sup> Institute for Operations Research, Karlsruhe Institute of Technology (KIT), Karlsruhe, Germany